MEMPHIS' BALLET ON WHEELS TO PRESENT 'DREAMGIRLS' THIS JUNE 4th

Memphis, TN – Ballet On Wheels, a Memphis-based nonprofit, community-based classical Ballet School & Dance Company, announced this week they will officially premiere their “Dreamgirls” dance production on June 4, 2016. For two great shows only, a matinee at 2:30PM and an evening show at 7PM. The show will feature dance students from ages 3 to 25.

“This is a show the Memphis community will definitely want to experience,” said Chauniece Thomson, Executive Artistic Director. “Similar to the movie and Broadway production, our spin on “Dreamgirls” will leave audience members entertained, excited, and emotional from start to finish.”

Founded in 2002, Ballet on Wheels’ professional teachers provide instruction to the diverse student body in the art form and theory of classical ballet, pointe, modern, jazz and other dance genres.

Through numerous sponsors and deep community ties throughout the city, the Dance Company is constantly promoting dance events and memorable productions in and around Memphis.

“From the period based costuming, to diverse dance styles and elaborate choreography, our “Dreamgirls” production will be a phenomenal show,” said Thompson. “We are so excited to present this never before seen dance production on June 4.”

Tickets are $20 in advance for the matinee showing. Performances will take place at the Salvation Army Kroc Center at 800 E Parkway South, Memphis, Tennessee.
